

“Information celebration”

Information Awareness Month

International guest speaker

Dr. Jenna Hartel

The presentation will explore people’s visual conceptions of information, a study of how the question “What is information?” is answered by the public, and discuss implications for all information organisations and staff.

Information celebration

Associate Professor Jenna Hartel, Ph. D, University of Toronto

In the spirit of Information Awareness Month, Dr. Hartel will present “Information Celebration!” Her talk will provide a fresh, visual perspective on the concept of information, and should appeal to members of the records, archives, library, knowledge, information and data management communities. For the past four years, Dr. Hartel has spear-headed the innovative, international iSquare Research Program. In this arts-informed study people answer the question “What is information?” in the form of a compact line drawing, coined an “iSquare.” The session will contain a speech, Q&A and be interactive, featuring an opportunity for the audience to contribute to iSquare research now underway by Curtin University’s Dr. Pauline Joseph.

Dr. Jenna Hartel

“I believe a different character of Information Science is possible, one that moves beyond pragmatic concerns with information resources and technologies to consider positive and upbeat information phenomena across the entire human experience...within leisure, pleasurable, or profound contexts.”

Networking

Following the presentation, the audience is invited to enjoy further discussion and networking in the Curtin Gallery. Food platters and soft drinks will be served.
